Pursuant to such agreement, we will pay Marshall a fee in connection with sales of our software and hardware to customers, distributors and resellers for use exclusively in the ultimate operations of or for use in a lottery ("End Users"). Under such agreement, we will pay Marshall (i) 30% of the net invoice price for the sale of our software to End Users, and (ii) 2% of the net invoice price for the sale of hardware to End Users, in each case collected by us on or before February 12, 2012, with a minimum annual payment of $50,000 for three years. Under the strategic partnership agreement, we had granted Marshall the right to be the exclusive distributor of our products to entities and companies and an exclusive license to our technology in the gaming and lottery industry throughout the world for an initial two-year term. Marshall was to pay us 38% of the gross profit on all products and technical and support services generated by the sale of each RoninCast system and related services. WIRELESS RONIN REPORTS 2006 FOURTH QUARTER AND FULL YEAR RESULTS2006 Highlights Include:

- More than 340 percent increase in revenue from 2005
- Gross margin expansion to 51 percent
- Improved balance sheet and liquidity
- Growth in strategic reseller relationships

MINNEAPOLIS – February 16, 2007 – Wireless Ronin Technologies, Inc. (NASDAQ: RNIN) today announced its financial results for the 2006 fourth quarter and full year. The company reported revenue of $1.2 million for the fourth quarter of 2006, in comparison to $0.2 million during the fourth quarter of 2005, a net loss of $8.5 million compared to net loss $1.5 million last year, and a basic and diluted loss per share of $2.33 compared to $1.98 last year. The increase in net loss for the 2006 fourth quarter was primarily attributable to increased operating costs as well as higher interest expense. The greater amount of interest expense was due to higher debt levels, the early retirement of long- and short-term debt and the recording of additional beneficial conversion during the period. The majority of the interest expense was non-cash. The increase in basic and diluted loss per share was due primarily to the increase in interest expense and operating costs, reduced by the increase in shares outstanding. Fourth-quarter results also include costs of approximately $166,000 after-tax, or $0.05 per basic and diluted share, of stock option non-cash expense related to FAS123R. The company adopted FAS123R for reporting purposes in the first quarter of 2006.

Jeffrey Mack, Wireless Ronin Technologies, Inc. chairman, president and chief executive officer said, “I am excited by our accomplishments in the fourth quarter and the progress we made toward our future profitability objectives. During the quarter and the year, we improved sales and gross margin levels, significantly added to our sales pipeline, invested in technology improvements and took steps to better position our company for the future. The closing of our initial public offering in November allowed us to reduce our debt and interest expense going forward, improve liquidity and create a solid platform for growth.”

Full Year 2006 Results

For the 2006 full year, the company reported revenue of $3.1 million compared to $0.7 million in 2005, a net loss of $14.8 million compared to a net loss of $4.8 million last year, and a basic and diluted loss per share of $9.71 compared to $7.18 last year. The increase in net loss during 2006 is primarily attributable to increased operating expenses as well as higher interest expense. The greater amount of interest expense was due to higher debt levels, the early retirement of long- and short-term debt and the recording of additional beneficial conversion during the year. The increase in basic and diluted loss per share was due primarily to the increase in interest expense and operating costs and reduced by the increase in shares outstanding. The 2006 results also included costs of approximately $787,000 after-tax, or $0.52 per basic and diluted share, of stock option non-cash expense related to FAS123R. The company adopted FAS123R for reporting purposes in the first quarter of 2006.

Other items

In 2006, gross margins averaged 50.9 percent, as compared to a gross margin loss of 32.3 percent in 2005. The change reflected increased sales activity, a decrease in costs associated with inventory reductions due to obsolescence and the recognition of certain license fees in 2006.

General and administrative expense during the 2006 fourth quarter was $1.1 million compared to $0.5 million during the same period last year, primarily reflecting higher staffing levels. Increased expenses also resulted from higher professional services fees and FAS123R related expenses.

Cash and marketable securities at the end of 2006 was approximately $15.5 million compared to $0.1 million at the end of 2005, reflecting proceeds from the company's initial public offering. Due to the company's loss carryforward position, it does not currently pay income taxes.

The company has provided historical data for the statement of operations in an attachment called "Supplemental Data." This schedule shows each of the four quarters of 2006 for the major income statement items for purposes of year-over-year comparisons going forward.

Full Year 2007 Guidance and Business Outlook

For year 2007, Wireless Ronin Technologies anticipates revenue in the range of $15 to $20 million.

"Last year was truly a transitional year for the company and we achieved several key milestones", concluded Mack. "We dramatically expanded sales and deepened our strategic relationships with our reseller partners and invested in product development. With the successful completion of our IPO during the fourth quarter, we streamlined our balance sheet to support our highly leverageable business model and achieve our financial goals. We enter 2007 excited at the opportunities that we see to grow market share and reach our targeted profitability objectives."
